

SNH Velo Club wins the last lap of the Grand Prix Chantal Biya International Cycling Tour

The 18th edition of the competition was run in 4 laps from 26 to 30 September 2018.

SNH Velo Club (SVC) captain, Clovis Kamzong Abossolo, won the last lap of the Grand Prix, over a distance of 170 km between Sangmélima (South Region) and Yaoundé (Central Region) in 4 hours 19 minutes 51 seconds. El pistolero, as his fans call him, also won the green jersey for the best rider in the overall points classification and the blue jersey for the best Cameroonian in the competition.

Cameroon, through SVC, is ranked 3rd best team after Flanders Region Team of Belgium and Global Cycling Team of Holland.
